W. Ross White

New Westminster 🏠
(604)404-0002 📞 williamrosswhite@gmail.com ✉ linkedin.com/in/wrosswhite 💼 github.com/williamrosswhite 🌐

I have a passion for developing software solutions of genuine benefit to users and the world, a voracious appetite to learn all I can as quickly as I can through working with professionalism the field, and an indominable tenacity. I love losing myself in a project while working towards a goal.

Skills

- Java & OO Programming
- GitHub
- Microsoft Office
- Writing
- HTML5/CSS
- Oracle/mySQL
- Communication
- Critical Thinking
- C / C++ / C# /.NET
- Android Studio
- Creativity
- Leadership

Education

Computer Systems Technology (Technical Programming)
British Columbia Institute of Technology
2018 TO PRESENT - Technical Programming Option

Bachelor of Arts - University of British Columbia - Okanagan
2010 TO 2012 - Psychology Major / Philosophy Minor

University Transfer Studies - Okanagan College - Kelowna 2006 TO 2010 - Included all most first year science courses

Experience

2016 TO 2017
Line Cook / The River's Reach Pub
Responsible for cooking and cleaning in a high volume, fast paced close coordination team environment

2015 TO 2016
Science Fiction Novelist / Self Employed
Wrote, edited, and published a trilogy of novels about extrasolar colonization
My work can be seen at www.newhorizonmission.com

Volunteering & Extracurricular

- BCIT Impact by Leadership Conference 2019 – Host, liaison, and assistant to a guest speaker
- Mentee in BCIT Mentorship Program – paired with an incredibly helpful local game developer
- Canadian Blood Services – first donation 2019, and I now intend to donate regularly as long as I can!

Projects

- Game of Life – Java Project to simulate carnivore/omnivore/herbivore/plant interaction
- Project Asparagus – I designed and implemented the log in system for a food waste reduction app
- Disaster Pets – a website to notify rescuers of pets left behind and reconnect them with owners
- New Westminster Mental Health Access App – uses open data to guide those in need to assistance